Chairman Cortelyou didn't even get a run for his money.

"Don't waste your regrets," says a newspaper writer. We heed no advice like that. We've got regrets to burn.

It could have been worse for the Democracy. Look how we beat Dr. Swallow and Tom Watson, both put together.

Cortelyou is saying very little now. He is probably thinking that it was a shame for the doubtful States to take the money.

A dispatch states that Judge Parker is cheerful. It is enough to know that the South voted for a man that holds a stiff upper lip like that.

We are glad the Republican campaign fund did not run amuck down South. That is what we get for being above suspicion and not being classed among the doubtful.

Writers are speculating about what are to be Roosevelt's policies. We can answer that by saying he is a dangerous man—to run against in a campaign.

The Republicans estimate that the Presidential campaign cost them $22,500,000. High Price Shaw doesn't care a cent if it cost even more than that.

The Baltimore Sun says: "Why not make it unanimous?" Our sentiments are such yet that we are compelled to consign that question to "the limbo of negation."

It was a shame to count Missouri the other way just to have President Roosevelt to take in the St. Louis Exposition under the impression that he will be at home over there.

President Roosevelt is getting up arbitration treaties right along with foreign powers. This solid end of the Republic will receive any arbitration proposition that comes to it with proper difference to our provinciality.

Congressman Jim Hay, of Virginia, has declared that "the time has come for the South to refuse to any longer follow the dictates of the Northern Democracy." We appear to be too lonesome now to be getting too "Cigity" with our friends.

Congress will resume its sessions in four weeks. The Congressional Record is asked before hand to explain why it was that it allowed itself to appear once or twice as the real thing and afterwards in fragments during the campaign, when it was supposed to be taking a neutral vacation.

The Baltimore Sun states that Judge Solomon F. Kirwan, in the 92nd year of his age, traveled from Virginia to Dorchester county, Md., to vote for Judge Parker. When he deposited his ballot it was the seventieth vote he had cast since he had reached the age of 21 years. Sorry to take away the Judge's honors, but time was in South Carolina that a young man had to do that well in one election.

IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

Dan Teachey on Trial in Duplin Superior Court Tells of His Whereabouts.

DEFENCE PROVING ALIBI.

Prisoner Undergoing Rigid Cross Examination Yesterday Afternoon—His Sister Tells of Her Brother's Last Visit Home, Etc.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Nov. 12.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the State unexpectedly announced in Superior Court here that it would rest its testimony in the Dan Teachey murder trial and at once the defence set about to prove its alibi for the prisoner. It will be remembered that the State's witnesses have fixed the time of the homicide between 8 and 8:30 o'clock P. M. and one of the leading State's witnesses testified that Robt. Rivenbark was at Easter Williams' house when the shoofly blew at Teachey and it was only a few minutes after this when he left the house and the fatal shot was fired.

G. C. McIntyre, station agent for the A. C. L. at Teachey, was introduced with his record showing that on the night of the homicide the "shoofly" arrived at Teachey at 8:13 and left at 8:13. W. J. Boney, a surveyor, testified that defendant lived half a mile south of Teachey, between Teachey and Wallace, and 3½ miles from scene of shooting; about same distance to defendant's home, shortest route. Alvina Register, witness to be introduced later, lived a quarter of a mile south of defendant, making three-quarters of a mile or more from Teachey. Alvina Register testified she raked straw for Dan Teachey day of homicide and stopped a little after sunset. Dan Teachey hauled straw that day and left woods about same time witness and her son did. The Register woman's son corroborated what his mother said and told of having been sent to Teachey station on night of murder after supper to buy some provisions. After making purchases and while returning home, he met Dan Teachey between his house and Teachey station. Went on home and time he got there "shoofly" passed. Next night defendant went to his mother's house and asked that she go to his house and get something to eat and some tobacco for him.

Miss Ida Teachey, sister of defendant, testified that night of homicide her brother came home late to supper after 7 o'clock and was there next morning.

Dan Teachey, the defendant, was then sworn and testified in his own behalf as follows: I am about 34 years old. I recollect the Wednesday deceased is said to have been shot. I hauled straw that day. Mrs. Register and her two boys raked straw for me that Wednesday. It was a little cloudy. I left woods with last load about sunset and carried the straw to Osborne Carr's and he handed me a two dollar bill. I went home and put up mule very near dark and went to house and told my mother I was going to Teachey. She said make haste back, as supper was most ready. I went down to McChing's store and got $3.00 changed. I met Buck Granthorn when I was going home. I went home and ate supper. Others had eaten. After supper I went back to Mr. L. W. Moore's store to get some quinine. On my way I met Levi Register going home and told him to tell his mother I would pay her for straw next day. I set on steps of Moore's store and nobody came to open it and I went back home. As I got near the gate "Shoofly" blew, and as I went in yard my sister Cora came up and went in her house and I went in mine, just in front of it. I recognized her. I undressed, took shoes off and went to sleep and stayed in house all night. The "Shoofly" passed that night about the time I got in house. Next morning I got up early and went in house to put on my shoes. Went out with a little boy and shot a bird. I went and worked strawberries until nearly breakfast and went to store and bought 13 breech-loading shells for the boy. Arthur McChing sold me shells and took me aside and told me about Rivenbark being shot; said I was accused of doing shooting, and advised me to leave if I was guilty. I told him I was not guilty and would not leave. I went home, carried shells and gave them to little boy. I then made up my mind to go down where Rivenbark was shot to ascertain truth about it. I went along the public road, saw Tilda Murray at W. A. Heath's gate, called her and asked her if she had heard anything about shooting. She said yes. I told her they accused me of it and I didn't do it. I went on to Isaac Powers' and asked if Jim Dixon was at home; went in there and never saw anybody. Went on to Easter's and asked what was the trouble and she said "White folks were going to kill her." Lizzie Williams and Ann Johnson came up. Some one asked how was Bob, and Lizzie said he was under influence of chloroform. I then went back home and saw Calvin Stokes and talked with him and told him I didn't do it. Got in our field and met father, mother, sisters. Told them I didn't do it and had nothing to shoot with. I went home with them, got the pistol and showed it to them. It had pin out of the cylinder and would not shoot and was the only pistol I had. I had had Mr. Wise repair the pistol the September before and afterwards about Christmas—I went to Virginia to work on the railroad. This was Sunday night after Christmas, and I went to Emporia, Va. I stayed there until I got through there and come to Battlesboro, N. C. I had the pistol in the "Shanty Car," and it got rusty. I came home last of January, shot load out of the pistol and took pinchers to pull rod out and broke it and threw it down and put cylinder and rest of it on shelf in room and never saw it any more until the morning after the shooting when I showed it to my father. This was the only pistol I had at the time. In 1902, I had sold a No 22 pistol to Rob. McMillan and these were the only two pistols I ever owned.

The morning after the shooting Calvin Stokes told me there was a crowd of men hunting for me. I also saw Jake Williams and asked him where were the crowd of men with guns, and he said they had gone toward Mr. Batts'. He asked me why I shot Bob and I told him I didn't do it. I came back home and when I got to railroad I saw a large crowd of men with guns and I kept out of their way. I saw Joe Stokes and he told me Luther Carr said I ought to be killed and that I had better keep out of their way. I went to Mrs. Register's that night and asked her to go to my house and get something to eat and some tobacco. My sisters brought this to me, and I stayed out Thursday night; went home Friday morning; ate my breakfast; went out in the field and talked to Mr. Yarborough, who advised me to leave, and I told him I had done nothing and was not going to leave. Spent Friday at home and around the yard. After dinner I went out on railroad and saw constable with Ann Johnson and Easter Williams, carrying them before J. P. He motioned to me to come and I would not go; saw him send boy to Teachey and in few minutes saw large crowd of men congregating and coming toward the house. I got out of the way and that night after the crowd had dispersed I voluntarily gave myself up to the sheriff and he read warrant to me and brought me to jail that night. The only conversation I ever had with Joe Rivenbark was coming from Wallace. He was telling about going in Pender and got in a shooting scrape and how they ran him. I never had the conversation he related on the stand and never made any threats against Bob at any time. I remember seeing Solomon Highsmith and John Rivenbark in road in front of Easter Highsmith's. John said, "We give it to Joe Lee the other night and there are two others we want to get." I told him that if a man should come to my house and do me like they did Joe Lee I would make it a warm time if I had anything to do it with. I did not have any of the conversation testified to by John Rivenbark and made no threats. I deny ever having the conversation sworn to by J. A. Simmons. I never saw Ann Johnson, Easter Williams or any of State's witnesses down there that night or any other time just prior to shooting. Once after I came from Virginia I and Joe Stokes went hunting in Rockfish and came out by this place, but did not stop and this was the only time I had been there since I came back from Virginia. I had not been there in twelve months preceding the night of the alleged shooting. There was never any unpleasantness between deceased and myself. I did not give Lizzie any money for Easter Williams. I never had any conversation with Gilbert or Ann Johnson after shooting. I wasn't at Easter's house that night and did not shoot Robt. Rivenbark.

The cross examination is proceeding at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

HOUSE ON FIRE ABOVE HIM.

Architect Henry E. Bonitz Had Narrow Escape Yesterday Morning—Residence Damaged About $800.

Mr. Henry E. Bonitz, the well known architect, was "rudely awakened" yesterday morning to find his residence, No. 711 Princess street, burning above him. About 6 o'clock the cook at the residence of Mr. Walsh, next door, saw flames issuing from a rear bed room on the second floor of Mr. Bonitz's house. The family of Mr. Bonitz was away at the time, but the cook knew that Mr. Bonitz himself was asleep in the house somewhere, and she ran as fast as she could around to the front door and rang the bell violently until Mr. Bonitz, who was fortunately in one of the rooms downstairs, awoke to find the house filled with smoke from above. He had the presence of mind to jump at once to the telephone and send an alarm to the fire department, which made an unusually quick response.

Going to the room on the second floor and opening the door, Mr. Bonitz found the fire burning fiercely and the overhead plastering falling in. The entire fire department responded to the alarm, but the Chemical Engine alone quickly extinguished the blaze, which had gained considerable headway. The damage to building and contents is between $700 and $800, but the loss is fully covered by insurance with the agencies of Col. Walker Taylor and Capt. J. VanB. Metts. The fire either had its origin from rats and matches or some one had entered the residence and by striking matches had accidentally set the house on fire. Mr. Bonitz is generous in his praise of the firemen for their excellent work.

SYRIAN AND NEGRO FOUGHT.

Porter at Bellamy's Drug Store and Wm. Simon at War Yesterday.

Africa versus Syria and a victory for the black man, temporarily at least. Such is the story in brief of a lively fight which occurred at Front and Market streets yesterday morning.

Jud Carroll, a negro of good character and courteous bearing, is employed at Bellamy's drug store as a porter. Yesterday morning he was sent "out front" to get an empty box he had put on the sidewalk a short time before. He found that the box had been removed from in front of the place, but Jud was not long in locating what he thought was the same one in the store of William Simon, a Syrian who "keeps" a few doors below. He went in the Syrian's shop and laid claim to the box but the Syrian said "nay, nay," and applied something to Jud that he didn't like to take. A scrimmage ensued and Jud was roughly handled by the two mongolians in the store, finally having been pitched out on the sidewalk.

Jud returned to the drug store, was trying to forget the incident and was busily engaged in washing some bottles when "all of a sudden" he saw the Syrian riding up the street on a bicycle toward magistrates' row for the purpose of taking out a warrant for him. The negro could contain himself no longer and rushed out of the store smashing a bottle over Simon's head and cutting his scalp right seriously. Dr. F. H. Russell was summoned and took a number of stitches in the wound. Jud ran like a deer as soon as he smashed the Syrian, but later he surrendered to Justice Fowler, waived examination and gave bond with Mr. Bellamy as surety for his appearance at next term of Superior Court.

AND STILL THEY COME

Another New and Important Industry to Be Located in Wilmington Soon.

FACTORY SITE PURCHASED.

Hannah & Co., Successful Box Manufacturers, Acquire Property for Another Corporation Shortly to Enter the Industrial Field Here.

Through their attorney, Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, Messrs. Hannah & Co., the successful manufacturers now operating a box and shook factory in the northeast suburbs of the city, on yesterday acquired a part of the valuable lands owned by the Sweeney estate and situated within the triangle formed by the W. & W. and W. & N. railroad tracks, near the oil mill of Mr. W. E. Worth, also in the northeastern section of the city. It is learned from an authentic source that the purchase of the site is for a party of Baltimore and Philadelphia capitalists, some of whom are interested in the firm of Hannah & Co., and who will shortly erect on the site another factory, the character of which is not given out just at present. However, it is known that the new enterprise will be entirely independent of the box factory and will give employment to a large number of both skilled and unskilled laborers.

The party of capitalists interested in the new concern will give out nothing further for publication than a mere announcement of their purpose until after their corporation is chartered under the laws of North Carolina, which matter will be attended to in a very short time so that work on the new plant may begin before the holidays.

The location of the new factory, near the apex of the triangle formed by the two lines of railway, will afford abundant and convenient shipping facilities for the large business that will be carried on. The movers in the new enterprise were attracted to Wilmington by the success of Hannah & Co. with the box factory. It is now running full time, full capacity, and is even then hardly able to keep up with orders. The later addition to Wilmington's industrial plants will be welcome and the public is assured it will be one of consequence. Further particulars will be given in due time, but at present this newspaper is estopped by the propriety of the case.

BURGLARS FRIDAY NIGHT.

Mr. Henry Fennell Winged One Who Came in His Residence—Other Reports.

Burglars are on their rounds again in Wilmington, and one who entered the residence of Mr. H. G. Fennell, No. 219 North Seventh street, night before last, came dangerously near not living to tell the story of his misfortune. Mr. Fennell heard some one breaking into his house late Friday night and quietly securing his pistol went down to investigate. Half way in one of the windows on the first floor, he saw the body of a man and lost no time in opening fire. The burglar dropped to the ground from the window, and in his haste to get away left his hat. Mr. Fennell is satisfied one of the bullets he fired hit the man and wounded him though the intruder never stopped.

The same night some one entered the residence of Mrs. Manning, on Fourth near Princess street, and carried away a large quantity of provisions. Nothing else, however, was missed. At several other places, an attempt was made to enter residences, but in each instance the burglar was frightened away.

Nothing Interesting in Court.

The police court again failed to develop a newspaper story of value yesterday, as monotonous as was the balance of the "court house round" to the reporter. W. D. Johnson, a negro arrested a few days ago for disorderly conduct at a "festibule" near Ninth and Castle streets, was arraigned for trial but his accusers were unable to make out a case and the defendant was discharged. Westley Mitchell, a witness who failed to put in an appearance when the trial was originally set, was arraigned for forfeiture of his recognizance but the Mayor took his case under advisement. Ida Anderson, a colored dame, picked up yesterday morning by Policeman Minshew, too drunk to stand in the Front street market alley, had not recovered sufficiently at noon to be in presentable shape for the Mayor, and she will further languish in durance vile until police court to morrow.

Young Mother Passed Away.

Mr. S. L. P. Anderson, a popular employe of the Atlantic Coast Line, has the sympathy of many friends in the death of his young wife, Mrs. Pearl Elmo Anderson, 24 years of age, who passed away at 5 o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 705 Walnut street, where they had resided since coming to Wilmington about a year ago. An infant child, two days old, and the bereaved husband survive her with a number of relatives in Manchester and Richmond. The remains were sent to the latter city last night for interment in that city to-day.

What's the use to buy ready-made clothes when you can get the same goods in fine custom tailored garments at the same money? Hundreds of well satisfied customers will tell you how it's done at I. Shrier's, northeast corner of Front and Princess streets. "At the sign of the Golden Arm." That's the place. †

...LD HAVE CO-OPERATION.

Most Laudable and Patriotic Undertaking by Ladies—Opportunity to Help Them.

An opportunity will be given to the citizens of Wilmington, on Thursday evening next, to assist in a most worthy object, which the Daughters of the Confederacy have undertaken with loyal, grateful and loving hearts. The people of North Carolina, generally, owe much to the revered memory of the Hon. George Davis, who was an eminent and honored member of the bar—one whom his State was justly proud to call her son. Always ready to answer her demands upon his talents—statesman as well as orator—ever devoted to her best interests, when the tocsin of war sounded and our neighboring States had buckled on their armor, to maintain their right to secede, he was chosen to represent his State in the Peace Conference, for the people were confident that he would do all in his power to effect a compromise, if honorable, and refuse to consent to what was not. We all know the result, and some, now left, remember his eloquent address upon his return.

North Carolina knew by his failure, that the time had passed for loyalty to the Union, and immediately determined to follow her sister States. Then came the record to which the Daughters of the Confederacy point with pride and honor, which is also due, not only from this entire State, but from every one represented by its Chapters of the U. D. C. A member of the Confederate Cabinet, and the last Attorney General of the Southern Confederacy, as well as his having been in close touch with President Davis, should stir every Southern heart, and make them proud to rear a memorial to one who had so nobly served his country, as well as his State in times of peace, and in the time when men's souls were tired.

Wilmington proudly claiming his nativity, the Cape Fear Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy have lovingly started as pioneers in this great, and well merited tribute, and we feel that in his native city should be reared a fitting monument to his noble life, carrying down to posterity, through many ages, the history there recorded. The W. L. I. Dramatic Club will generously repeat their play lately so successfully rendered, to assist the Daughters in their work, and they should be greeted by a full house.

Besides the enjoyment of rare fun and perfect rendition of parts, the people of Wilmington should, and most probably will, feel it a privilege to contribute in this way to so grand an object.

Pleased 'em at Fayetteville.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "The circus has come and gone, and it is the universal opinion that it was the best one ever seen in Fayetteville. About six thousand people were under the canvas yesterday afternoon, but last night the crowd was rather a small one. The circus is remarkable in one respect especially, and that is, that, with its seven or eight hundred employes, one never heard a curse word or met with any discourtesy. The Observer was somewhat prepared for this after meeting Mr. J. H. Davis, Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' press representative, who, in all respects, is one of the cleverest men we ever saw connected with a show, and who is an intelligent gentleman. The circus, in three long trains, left here early this morning for Bennettsville, where it shows to-day."

John Griffith's Appearance.

Only a small audience witnessed Mr. John Griffith's presentation of Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, "Macbeth," at the Academy of Music last night, but those who braved a threatening northeast storm and the inconveniences of a Saturday night, were pleased with the production. Mr. Griffith's "Macbeth" was a capital one, as was also Miss Ripley's conception of Lady Macbeth. Mr. Sullivan's interpretation of Macduff did not suffer by comparison. The scenic embellishment of the play was all that could be desired.

OUR OLDEST COLOSSAL FRIEND

As Represented in Two Wonderfully Wise Herds With Forepaugh & Sells Bros.

Our friend, the elephant, is at least one huge exception to the general rule that familiarity breeds contempt. Although no longer to be ranked as a zoological stranger in a strange land it still leads the procession and always will, and remains the ponderous popular magnet, both in the streets and under canvas. It is the first of wild beasts, alike in the nursery and the menagerie, to impress its individuality upon the memory of the child, and as the years pass maintains an abiding peanut formillarty with everybody while its performances are a perennial source of staid admiration to the old and of delighted wonder to the young. The consolidation of great shows which is to exhibit at Wilmington on November 15 includes two royal delegations of the biggest, smallest and best taught of our distinguished truncal friends. The one is the world-famous, original Adam Forepaugh herd of performing elephants, which has been before the public for nearly half a century, can boast of veteran artists over a hundred years of age, and has been trained to present a colossal programme of amazing and amusing dancing and other feats in a spec al school of which it is the only example. The other is the equally eminent and trained Sells Brothers' herd of elephant actors, taught to cover the entire ground of arenic scholarship, from martial maneuvers to mirthful mimicry. Thus the representatives of every species, royal and drawf elephants, appear simultaneously in ponderous, prodigious, mirth-provoking and unique rivalries. You who have seen the elephant in other ways, will make your children happier by giving them a chance to see him in this one.

BAILEY ON THE "GENERAL RESULT."

He Speaks of Temperance Legislation and Democratic Vote on Tuesday.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 12.—Chairman Bailey, of the State Anti-saloon league, in a statement issued to-day says it must be an impressive lesson that the party could go before the people defending as sweeping a temperance enactment as the Watts' act and achieve such a triumph as the Democratic party achieved. The new Legislature will be as strongly Democratic as the Watts' Act Assembly and more strongly. The temperance people attribute in part the loss of the eighth Congressional district by the Democrats to "uncalled for compromise of the Watts' Act towns, Williams and Shore."

Mr. Bailey says Brunswick will send a Republican to the Assembly, but he is a temperance Republican and defeated a whiskey ring Democrat. Democrats in Brunswick have, therefore, not the Watts' act to blame, but liquor men who led them to defeat by getting out of line with the party and people. He says the temperance majority in the new Legislature is so large that the opposition will not find it worth while to make a fight. They have this to fear, though, that a few counties have elected men who will plead that they may except their counties from the application of the Watts' act, leaving it to a vote of the people in their counties. To yield would be to let down the bars, says Mr. Bailey. An address outlining the policy for the temperance cause in the Legislature will be issued soon.

WILLIAM H. BERNARD.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 13.

HOW WILL THE SOUTH FARE?

Many Northern papers are speculating as to whether President Roosevelt, in view of the fact that his colossal victory was of a personal nature and an overwhelming endorsement of his policy, would declare his independence of his party leaders and factions and run amuck with his own plans and policies. Some papers have seriously discussed the temptation which Mr. Roosevelt has to declare his will supreme and pursue a radical course during his term beginning on the 4th of next March.

Advices from Washington, given out by newspaper men who get their information at and through the White House, state that the President contemplates no "running away" policy. It is also given out that his attitude as to the negro question will be what it has been during his ad interim term.

That policy has been one of the open door of opportunity to the capable negro, without discrimination as to his color; that the negro is to be treated as a full fledged American citizen; and that the negro is not even to be slighted when it comes to sitting down to meat in the White House. In addition to that bearing of the President towards the negro, the President and Senator Lodge incorporated in the Republican platform a proposition about cutting down Southern representation in Congress and in the electoral college because Southern States have deemed it proper to protect their suffrage by measures which eliminate the ignorant negro vote. We are satisfied that will also be a part of the policy of Roosevelt and his party from now on. Some of our contemporaries, notably the Washington Post, have assured us that the so called negro plank in the Republican platform was merely to catch the negro vote in Northern States, where they constitute the balance of power in elections. The idea was held out by news papers taking the view that after the negro plank had served its purpose and the election was over, no more of cutting down Southern representation would be heard.

We have not been convinced that either the President or his party would ignore the negro or the proposition to reduce our representation, after the election had been secured. It was one of the planks in the platform and we took it seriously. We regard a platform as the solemn pledge of a party, and we do not believe Roosevelt will let the matter rest where he left it in the platform. We have no apprehension, however, that any effort of Roosevelt or his party will avail in cutting down Southern representation. In view of the constitution of the United States, and decisions of the United States Supreme Court regarding the suffrage amendments to the constitutions of several Southern States, we are not worrying much over their success in carrying out the negro plank in their platform. However with a majority of over 100 in the House and about 30 in the Senate, the President can do his best to cut down our representation. We believe he will undertake it, too. If he does not, we will certainly be agreeably disappointed.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE SOUTH.

In another editorial we discuss the question of how the South will fare at the hands of the triumphant Roosevelt and his party. We make room here for this interesting editorial from the Baltimore Sun of Friday:

"The election of Tuesday shows the North united, not only in favor of a candidate for the Presidency, but in favor of the policies of the dominant party. It shows most of the Southern States solid for the Democratic candidate, but on grounds which have very little vital connection with the issues that occupied the minds of Northern Democrats. What unites the South is not enthusiastic opposition to the Panama canal, which promises the vitalization of Gulf ports; to imperialism, which offers a market for cotton goods in Manchuria; to protection, which is desired by many Southern manufacturers, nor to trusts, of which the South so far has but few—but an instinct of self-defense against interference with the local control of the social and race question. If the fear of interference with domestic questions which do not properly concern the North were eliminated, it would be difficult perhaps to say with positiveness how the people of the South would stand in reality with regard to most of the issues discussed during the recent campaign. If the South is "solid," it is not in an aggressive sense. It has no desire to impose any policy of its own upon the North. It is solid only because it deprecates a policy of interference with its affairs which is threatened by politicians in quest of negro votes. Let the present Administration but cease to excite apprehension by Crum appointments and proposals to reduce Southern representation in Congress, and there would be no longer the present huddling together of States which feel that they are about to be assailed.

"To-day the South is the most American and most patriotic part of the Union. If its circumstances as respects the race question are peculiar, this is not its fault, but the result of historical causes over which it has no control. It desires only to be let alone to solve in peace the economic problems with which it is concerned. It desires to co-operate with the other States of the Union in public affairs, sharing the common life of the nation and participating with the rest in its benefits. At present the South enjoys a large measure of material prosperity. Its agriculture, mines, manufactures, lumbering interests and railways are being rapidly developed. Capital is being accumulated locally and outside capital is pouring in. Movement, energy, progress and hopefulness—these are the characteristics of the situation that strike all who travel in Dixie at the present time. The Southern people are, in fact, absorbed in the industrial problems that confront them and do not wish to be diverted into the barren field of national politics. Time was when the Southern States were leaders in this field; but they no longer aspire to such leading, being content to occupy, themselves with their local material interests. The statesman who applauded the red ruin of the reconstruction policy on the ground that he wished to reduce the Southern people to such a state of domestic wretchedness that they would no longer be interested in national politics succeeded in his purpose only too well. The losses of the reconstruction era are not yet made good. Material well-being is still the engrossing task. Enjoying harmonious relations with their colored labor, white people hope to achieve this task. To their minds the meddling of Northern people with the Southern negro is an industrial evil which delays the recuperation of the country. In politics the African is a failure; he adds nothing to the common stock of statesmanship, civic intelligence or administrative efficiency. On the contrary, he deteriorates everything of this character within the sphere of his influence. Meanwhile "politics" has impaired his efficiency in the only field of effort for which he has any pronounced capacity. For these reasons, among others, they deprecate interference from outside by those who do not understand their problem. If they subordinate all other issues to the race issue it is only because they know too well how that issue affects their vital interests.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Of course, Mr. Roosevelt won. He advertised in the newspapers and magazines.—Washington Post.

— It will be easy for the Democratic minority in the House to hold its caucuses in the cloak rooms.—Washington Post.

— Some men vote as they feel. Other men vote as they think. Others vote where they live.—Dallas (Texas) News.

— The beef Trust is so pleased with the high price of beef that it has decided to keep it permanently.—Birmingham Ledger.

— Texas is still looked upon in some quarters as being wild and woolly; but there were sixteen murders in Chicago last month.—Houston Post.

— "Maryland, My Maryland," must be expunged from the Democratic hymnal, and with Missouri, Delaware and West Virginia out of the fold, "Dixie" seems to be in danger.—New York Herald.

— The South to President Roosevelt: "Let us solve the negro question in our own way and we'll stand by you in your efforts to make the next four years a series of American successes."—Baltimore Sun.

— Returning to Baltimore after a tour of the South, which took him through 11 States, General Gill makes the same report that has been made recently by many visitors to that section—that the South is prosperous beyond all record in the period since 1861. The good prices received for cotton explain the situation in part, but there are many other factors. The lumbering and mining interests now play a great part. In the line of manufacturing General Gill mentions the making of steel rails at Birmingham and adds that they are as good as the best. His observations were chiefly along the lines of the Southern Railway, but the briskness of agriculture and mannufacturing along the lines of that system extends to other lines as well.—Baltimore Sun.

CUPID'S MIRROR.

"The beauty of a woman's face or figure is but the external sign of the good health within," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the specialist in women's diseases. Further, to be happy and beautiful one must naturally have good health. Now, if a woman has dragging-down feelings, together with constantly returning pains and aches, a too great drain upon her vitality and strength, she will never look beautiful. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, all result from those disorders peculiar to women, and the only way to effect their cure is to strike at the source of the difficulty. There is every reason why she should write some great specialist, one who has made the diseases of women a specialty for a third of a century like Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. All correspondence is held sacredly confidential, and he gives his advice free and without charge.

During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

In many cases Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will fit the needs and put the body in healthy condition.

So sure of it is Dr. Pierce, he offers a reward of $500 for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Wilmington Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Wilmington readers.

R. A Biddle, clerk at 19 Market street, residing at 606 Castle street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for kidney trouble and my wife who also suffered from backache also used them. I never knew anything to act so quickly. I have suffered quite a long time with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were very dark and full of sediment. My wife also complained of her back, and when we read of Doan's Kidney Pills in our newspapers I went to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box. We used them with the best of results. In my case the kidney secretions cleared up and the pains left my back. We have neither of us complained since taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and it is with pleasure that I recommend them at every opportunity."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Charlotte cotton mills are seriously hampered by the lack of operatives. Prosperous farming conditions have induced many to go to the country.

— The Reidsville Review says Rockingham county paid its distinguished son, Hon. R. B. Glenn, a compliment by giving him the largest vote cast for any candidate.

— Winston-Salem Sentinel: The Southside chair factory shipped a carload of chairs to California yesterday. This factory is now shipping three or four cars each week.

— Sanford Express: A correspondent writing from Monroe to the Express says there is an old lady, Nancy Womack, who lives near there, who is 115 years of age and is still able to work. Her hair is black.

— Winston-Salem Sentinel: Governor-elect R. B. Glenn, in his answer to the message received from his opponent, Mr. O. J. Harris, says: "I am much gratified at your telegram of good wishes. May our relations always be pleasant."

— Lumberton Argus: Pranking with a gun Sunday, a young man named Locklear, near Moss Neck, accidentally discharged his gun, killing his cousin, a young woman named Locklear. The girl died almost instantly.

— Charlotte Observer: The election of Mr. Spencer Blackburn to represent the Eighth district in the lower house of the next Congress, is the one fly in the ointment as relates to the result in North Carolina. That he has defeated Mr. Newland seems now to be practically assured.

— Charlotte Observer: One of the surprises in North Carolina as the result of Tuesday's election was that Stanly went Republican. This is the natural outcome of the Democrats failing to interest themselves in the election, and it furnishes a moral that it will be well to bear in mind.

— John Johnson, colored, who fell about forty feet Thursday at Winston-Salem while painting the the new stand-pipe, is reported to be getting along nicely. His escape from death is considered miraculous. He was bruised but no bones were broken.

— The official returns of Wake county show that the vote for Judge Parker ran 223 behind that of Glenn; that the vote for Roosevelt is 178 votes ahead of Harris. Tom Watson received 18 votes in the county and the Prohibition candidate four. The actual Democratic majority in the county is 2,654.

— At Raleigh on Thursday the Winston-Salem Tag Machine Company was chartered for the manufacture of tobacco tags with machines and processes. The company has applications now pending in the Patent Office at Washington. The principal incorporators are Martin Davis and W. E. L. Martin.

— The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has completed his report on the school receipts and disbursements. There was expended for rural schools this year, $1,514,596, and for city schools, $356,184. The number of children attending was 489,935; average length of the term, white school, 17 weeks; colored, 16 weeks.

— The Sterling cotton mills, at Franklinton, Franklin county, have advertised that all farmers who want to hold their cotton for higher prices can store it in the mills, a reasonable charge being made for storage and insurance; and those who desire it can get three fourths value of their cotton advanced in cash at six per cent. interest.

— Charlotte Observer: The prophet of evil is never a welcome guest, but it had just as well be said, by way of preparation of our people for what is to come, that with as strenuous a man as Mr. Roosevelt in the White House for the next four years, with a senate and house each about two thirds Republican, the South, the only hostile section, may look out for rough sledding.

— Charlotte News:—The News is always glad to hear of the success of North Carolinians away from home. We learn from the Louisville Courier-Journal that Mr. Robert Worth Bingham, son of Major Robert Bingham, of Asheville, has been re-elected county attorney of Jefferson county in which Louisville is located. Mr. Bingham is a young man of sterling worth and is fast mounting the ladder of fame.

— A dispatch from Asheville on Friday says: George W. Vanderbilt returned to Biltmore house yesterday, after a flying trip to New York. The owner of the Biltmore estate still retains his residence in New York, and notwithstanding the fact that he was compelled to traverse nearly two thousand miles in order to express at the polls his choice for President of the United States, he had no idea of losing his vote, and hence the trip to the metropolis.

— The official vote in the Eighth Congressional district shows that Newland, Democrat, received 2,329 votes, and Blackburn, Republican, 2,403 votes. Majority for Blackburn 74. It may occur, however, that Newland will be given the certificate of election, as a dispatch from Salisbury Thursday night says: At a late hour to-night it is learned that at two precincts in Stanly county, at which Blackburn received a majority of eighty, more votes were counted than there were voters registered. The irregularity will be investigated at once, and if proven Newland will be declared elected by a small majority.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck, and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Dress of Hindoo Women.

There has been no change in Indian women's dress for 4,000 years. All wear the sari, a single piece of stuff a yard in quarter wide and twenty, thirty yards long. It is arranged on the body, and forms skirt, garment, veil, first plaited with the hand in accordion folds in front, wound round and round, and the richest end, if embroidered or woven with gold, finally brought over the head. It may be of simple cotton cloth; of silk, plain in design, woven with golden threads; solid with embroidery, strung with pearls, or of kincob, the royal cloth of gold. Some cost thousands of rupees. No pin, hook, button or string, the garment is formed on the architecture of the body, and takes its expression and nobility from its perfect harmony with the lines of the human form. And Indian women, whether of high or low class, have jewels everywhere; have sleeping gems and day gems, as we have day and night shirts.—Everybody's.

The Oak.

England won her supremacy on the seas with her ships of British oak, a wood that is renowned for strength and durability. When the Spanish armada set sail for England its commander had express orders from the king of Spain to burn or otherwise destroy every oak in the forest of Dean, then the great source of shipbuilding supplies. But, as blunt old Drake prophesied, Philip's beard was singed instead. Admiral Nelson declared that without "heart of oak" the British navy and empire would soon come to an end.

The oak is beautiful at all seasons. From the time it opens its delicate green buds, close pressed in their resinous overcoat, and emerging flame tipped with bronze or crimson, until they come again an acorn bearing spray is most artistic, and the ruddy hue of the tree in autumn combines well in nature's color scheme.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

In the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich.

Don't Take Chances With Kidney Troublse,

Dizziness, pains in the back, irregularities of the urine, and other seemingly slight symptoms, should not be neglected, for they are warnings that the kidneys are out of order, and serious results are sure to follow if prompt and proper treatment is neglected.

There is no disease so dangerous or so sure to result fatally as diseases of the kidneys or bladder, when neglected and allowed to reach a serious stage. Because the disease causes slight inconvenience, many people are prone to pay no attention to the first warnings, and before they are aware of the danger, they are completely in the grasp of the disease. Diabetes, irritation of the bladder, gravel, uremic poisoning, are stages of the diseases which are to be dreaded.

The most reliable remedy, as has been proven by thirty years of tests in severe cases, is Stuart's Gin and Buchu. This remedy is the result of years of scientific research, and the great good derived from its use proves its value in every case. Below we can give a few extracts from the thousands of letters in our possession, showing the benefit which has been derived from its use:

a trial sample absolutely free.

"I have tried the free sample bottle of Stuart's Gin and Buchu, and it gave almost instant relief. Your remedy has done me more good than all the medicine I ever used, and I now feel no effects of the bladder trouble at all."—Brown Smith, Thomaston, Ga.

"One of my customers tried all the doctors here and a number of kidney medicines, and one bottle of Stuart's Gin and Buchu did him more good than all the treatment he ever took. It is a wonderful remedy."—J. H. Benham, Druggist, Rockport, Tex.

"I am now on the third bottle of Stuart's Gin and Buchu, and am glad to say it is doing me much good."—John B. Wilkerson, Sandersville, Ga.

"I think your Stuart's Gin and Buchu has done me more good than anything I ever tried before."—Mrs. J. V. Roberts, Savannah, Ga.

"I have taken two bottles of Stuart's Gin and Buchu with highly satisfactory results, and believe that one more bottle will cure me."—D. P. Higgins, Oglethorpe, Ga.

"I suffered since childhood with bladder trouble. Was in bed three weeks, when I read of Stuart's Gin and Buchu, and after taking same three weeks I was well.—Mrs. Ida McElroy, Columbia, S. C.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING. NOVEMBER 13.

FOR RIVERS AND HARBORS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—General A. MacKenzie, chief of engineers of the U. S army, in his annual report to the secretary of war, says that the seacoast defences of the United States are now somewhat more than 50 per cent. complete and the existing projects comprise 334 heavy guns, 1,269 rapid-fire guns and 524 mortars, while up to the present time provision has been made for emplacing 334 heavy guns, 587 rapid-fire guns and 376 mortars. The new works constructed in connection with the scheme of seacoast defences to the present time represent an expenditure of $38,000,000 for engineer work alone.

The expenditures for river and harbor work during the past fiscal year aggregated $33,925,094. Estimates for the ensuing fiscal year have been as follows: Under continuing contracts $3,445,396; rivers and harbors (general) $21,444,257; examinations, surveys and contingencies $300,000.

General MacKenzie states that the following among other amounts can be profitably expended in the next fiscal year in the districts named:

Inland waterway from Chincoteague bay, Virginia, to Delaware Bay, at or near Lewes, Delaware, $60,000; James river, Virginia, $175,000; Cape Fear river above Wilmington, N. C., $50,000; below Wilmington $150,000; the Great Pee Dee river, S. C. $750,000; Charleston harbor, South Carolina, $50,000; Savannah harbor Georgia $325,000.

IN A HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Train Wreck on the Union Pacific Railroad—Eight Persons Killed and Five Others Injured, Two Seriously.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Nov. 8.—Eight persons were killed and five injured, two seriously, in a head-on collision shortly after midnight between Union Pacific westbound passenger train No. 8 and an eastbound extra freight train a short distance west of Azuza, Wyo. The dead: Engineer Wm. Murray, Engineer B. S. Eckles, Mail Clerk H. M. Sherman, Car Inspector Samuel Efferson, Fireman Wm. Comstock, two unknown passengers in day coach.

John B. Winslow, of Evanston, Pacific Express messnger, was fatally injured. Frank Nolan, of Cheyenne, mail clerk, was badly injured and may not recover. Three passengers in the day coach were injured, but not seriously.

The wreck, it is said, was the result of an error in a train order by a telegraph operator. The freight train was given thirty minutes to make Azusa and meet the westbound passenger, but the order delivered to the freight crew read: "Fifty minutes," and the trains came together with great speed. Both engines were demolished, the mail and baggage cars are telescoped and the day coach badly damaged, going in the ditch. The Pullmans did not leave the track. The track was blocked for several hours.

DUEL WITH KNIVES.

One Man Dead and the Other Cannot Survive His Injuries.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, GA., Nov. 13.—Fred Tharpe, a contractor, is dead, and Frank Christian, contractor and painter, is dying in a hospital as the result of a fierce duel with knives this afternoon in a Mulberry street saloon. Tharp's daughter married Rafe Plunkett, who was a step-son of Christian, and also partner in business. Some time ago Rafe Plunkett accidentally shot and killed himself. Since his death there has been some discussion between Tharpe and Christian as to the manner in which he was shot and also on account of some of the family troubles. The dispute this afternoon was because of these matters. Tharpe drew a knife and cut Christian across the stomach, whereupon the latter brought his knife into play, caught his assailant by the hair and cut his throat. Tharpe died almost immediately and Christian cannot live.

FIRE AT SAVANNAH.

S. A. L. Warehouse Destroyed—Loss About $30,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 12.—Fire in the receiving warehouse of the Seaboard Air Line railroad to-night did about $30,000 damage. The warehouse is situated on the river front. The entire fire department of the city was called out, and in addition two tugs assisted in fighting the flames. Two firemen were hurt, neither seriously, however. The stores burned consisted chiefly of grain and general merchandise.

SERIOUS TROUBLE IN WEST VIRGINIA.

GUARDED BY HIS FRIENDS.

Beat Back Posse Who Attempted Jackson's Arrest—Governor Offers Reward for His Capture, Dead or Alive—Officers in Pursuit.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 12—Chief of Police Nash, of Thurmond, enlisted fifteen special policemen here to-night and has started out in pursuit of Edward Jackson, who shot and killed Sheriff Daniels at Montgomery on Wednesday. Jackson is headed this way, accompanied by a number of his friends, and orders were given the specials to shoot to kill if resistance was offered. Chief Nash will continue his march all night toward Montgomery and expects to capture Jackson tomorrow.

Twenty warrants have been issued for the arrest of friends of the Jacksons who beat off the posse which attempted to arrest Jackson when he came into the city to-day to attend the funeral of his brother. It is feared serious trouble will follow the attempt to serve the warrants.

The excitement which prevailed when Jackson appeared in Montgomery had scarcely subsided when it was reported that Morris Adkins was shot and Tom O'Neil brutally beaten and robbed by Sam Core, who is believed to be a member of the Jackson crowd. The affair took place on Laurel Creek, and Core was not apprehended until he fought a pistol duel with Deputy Sheriff A. C. Hill, who attempted to arrest him. A mob of miners formed to lynch Core but he was spirited away before the mob could take him.

A telephone message from Montgomery says:

Ed. Jackson, who shot down Sheriff R. Daniels at Montgomery on Wednesday, appeared at Montgomery to-day to attend the funeral of his brother, who was killed by Policeman Elliott. Jackson was guarded by a crowd of his friends who were heavily armed. When it became known that Jackson was in the city, another posse was organized and attempted to secure Jackson. In this effort they were foiled, for when the posse charged on Jackson and his friends, the latter drew their guns and beat back the posse. There was much excitement at Montgomery when it became known that Jackson was in the city and for a time a riot was imminent.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Governor White to-day offered a reward of $500 for the capture of Jackson, dead or alive, and $100 for the capture of George Jackson, his brother. The other two of the Jackson brothers are in jail here, along with Policeman Elliott, who killed Constable Jackson and started the feud. Chief of Police Hunley has also been put in jail here. It is charged that he was holding Daniel when Jackson shot him. Hunley had remained in Charleston after bringing Elliott here, being advised by friends to remain here on account of the feeling against him in Montgomery. He was arrested on a warrant.

A FIERCE CONFLICT

By Cable to the Morning Star.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—Many heads were broken in a fierce conflict between German and Italian students at the university to-day, the fight arising from the recent troubles at Innsbruck. The Germans took the aggressive. They started singing the "Wacht Am Rhein" with uncovered heads and demanded that all the other students remove their hats. The Italians, Slavs and other non-Germans refused to do so, whereupon the Teutons forcibly kicked off their opponents' head gear and trampled their hats and caps in the dust. The Italians then started a counter demonstration on the university steps and sang the national hymn of Italy. The Germans then attacked the Italians and drove them from their position. Sticks and umbrellas were freely used and many heads were cracked, but no arrests were made as the fighting was confined to the University precincts.

DARING BURGLARS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 12.—There was a daring though unsuccessful attempt to rob the National Bank of Manassas last night. The vault was entered and the smaller of two safes therein was broken open. The larger safe, however, in which there was $15,000, proved two strong for the burglars. The latter secured $300 worth of stamps belonging to the postmaster and rifled some private boxes, but obtained very little money. There is no clue to the robbers.

Near Commerce, Georgia, Johnson Eaton was shot and killed by James Wilson, his brother-in-law. Accounts of the tragedy say that Eaton decided to leave Wilson's home, where he had been living. Wilson became infuriated and the tragedy resulted. The slayer escaped and has not yet been captured.

FIRE AND EXPLOSION AT KNOXVILLE, TENN.

Seven Story Building Burned and Another Wrecked—Firemen Injured—The Property Loss $250,000

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 12.—A fire, accompanied by an explosion of dynamite or powder, occurred to-day on Gay street, the principal business street of the city, causing a loss of about $250,000. Six firemen were injured. The most seriously hurt is Fireman J. B. Hawkins, both of whose legs were broken. A number of other persons sustained slight cuts from flying glass, but none was seriously hurt.

The fire originated from an unknown cause in the Woodruff Hardware Company's seven-story building, which was reduced to ashes.

The recently completed five-story marble front building, occupied by the Cable Piano Company, was wrecked by the explosion which followed the fire in the Woodruff building adjoining, and the six story Arnold, Henegar & Doyle wholesale shoe house was damaged by both fire and water.

The explosion shattered almost all the window glass and many show cases in nearly every store within a radius of two blocks of the fire. The blaze was confined to the Woodruff block. It is believed the losses are covered by insurance.

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT

In Which the City of Southport, N. C., is Deeply Interested.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BRISTOL, Va., Nov. 12.—Information here indicates that great railroad development for the coal fields of Southwest Virginia and Eastern Kentucky is on the eve of consummation through the South and Western railroad, extending from Bristol to Inman, in Wise county. Efforts to locate a spur track of thirty miles at a point which would check the project of the South and Western, has forced its promoters to begin work. The South and Western was incorporated in 1892 by George L. Carter, who has been prominent in the development of this section. In the same year he purchased the properties of the Ohio River and Charleston, formerly the Three C's, consisting of a line in operation from Johnson City, Tenn., to Huntsdale, N. C., and a graded right of way from St. Paul, Va., to Johnson City. It is announced to-day that he has since extended the completed line to the summit of the Blue Ridge, seeking a southern connection, has acquired terminal harbor properties at Southport, N. C., and has built a connecting link from St. Paul northward in Russell county. The road has also acquired and graded a right of way through Break at Sandy river and made trackage arrangements for a western connection.

MARYLAND'S ELECTION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—The boards of election supervisors of Baltimore city and twenty-two counties of Maryland have reported the official counts of the ballots cast last Tuesday. The result indicates that seven Democratic and one Republican elector were elected. St. Mary's county, in the "Black Belt" of the State, is the only missing report. From the returns at hand at midnight from Baltimore city and the counties of the State, it is reasonably certain that the final count of the votes will show little change. The vote for electors was very close.

NEEDS OF THE NAVY.

Not Enough Officers and Enlisted Men to Man the New Warships.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Owing to the lack of officers and enlisted men in the navy to meet actual needs of the service, it has been found necessary for the Navy Department to order at least three warships out of commission in order to man warships which have been completed and are now awaiting commission. The three vessels to be put out of commission will be selected from five which are deemed the least necessary for further active service at this time. The tentative list consists of the cruisers Atlanta, Castine and Marietta, of the South Atlantic squadron, and the gunboats Newport and Bancroft of the Caribbean squadron.

AYCOCK ON THE "GENERAL RESULT."

Governor Says Democrats Still True—Light & Power Co.—Pardoning Power.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 12.—In speaking of the general result in the recent election in this State Governor Aycock said this afternoon:

"The Republicans seem to take some gratification out of the returns of the election and yet not one of them, not even the chairman, can name fifty men who have left the Democratic party and gone over to the Republican party within the past two years in this whole State. On the contrary, Republicans have joined the Democratic party within that time.

There were local conditions which in the opinion of many Democrats justified them in remaining away from the polls. These still believe in Democratic principles. North Carolinians favor tariff for revenue only, are for local self government and strongly opposed to the centralization of power and when it becomes necessary for for them to assert their faith in these principles they will be found at the polls.

A charter is issued for the Mt. Olive Light and Power Company, of Mt. Olive, authorized capital $100,000; amount subscribed $10,000. William Maxwell, and J. W. Williamson are among the largest stockholders.

Mrs. Arthur L. Bishop had another conference this morning with Governor Aycock pressing her petition for the pardon of her husband, who is serving a five year sentence for murder committed in Charlotte. The Governor still declines to take action in the matter, and says he wishes he was out of the Governor's office and rid of the trials imposed by the pardoning power.

Lewis Washington, of Virginia, and Miss Anna Cox, of New York, were married yesterday at St. Andrew's church, London, Eng. Naval Attache S. T. Stockton gave away the bride, and H. W. Shoemaker, of the Berlin embassy, was the best man.

REPORTED DEATH OF GEN. KUROKI.

Russians Say the Japanese Commander Was Struck by a Shell and Died Oct 4th.

GEN. NODZU HIS SUCCESSOR.

Situation at Mukden Unchanged—Artillery Fighting Continues—Russians Report Alarming News from Port Arthur—No Particulars.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MOSCOW, Nov. 12—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well known Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, telegraphing from Mukden under today's date, says the reports of the death of General Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version, a splinter of a shell struck General Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast. He died October 4th at Lao Yant and his body was sent to Japan. A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the Mikado, Siacosanal, literally "little third prince," has been appointed to succeed General Kuroki, but the actual command of the army has been entrusted to General Nodzu, who is reviewing operations.

"For the last five weeks, says Danchenko, we have practically not advanced at any point on the whole southwestern front even a few versts further than we stood on October 5th. On the contrary, we at several places have been obliged to retire several versts, but the present lines of defence must be considered permanent in view of the strong fortifications constructed. The Japanese positions at several points are only 800 paces distant from ours and must be considered to be definitely occupied by the enemy.

"The latters' fortifications are acknowledged by all competent persons to be skilfully constructed. Their trenches in many places are so cleverly concealed as not to be noticeable a short distance away, the earth removed being carefully thrown in front of the trenches. The general position causes a great tension on both sides.

"Alarming news has been received from Port Arthur, but the absence of reports during the last few days makes it evident that the movement of one or the other Russian armies will be dependent upon the course of events there.

"On November 11th scouts on our right flank attempted to pierce the line of the Japanese fortifications, but were met with a stubborn resistance and finding the enemy strongly reinforced retired."

Situation At Mukden.

MUKDEN, Nov. 12.—Afternoon.—The situation is unchanged to-day. Artillery fighting continues, the firing at times growing heavy, particularly in the southwest. The Japanese shelled the Russian positions intermittently yesterday. The Russians did not reply. This afternoon a severe artillery engagement took place on the Russian right.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—General Sakahoroff telegraphs under to-day's date that the Japanese last night attacked the village of Wuchang, about one and a half miles south of Chuyanlindza. The Japanese assaulted the village on three sides but were repulsed. Four Russians were wounded.

The Russian Squadron.

DAKAR, FRENCH WEST AFRICA, Nov. 12.—Four battleships, five cruisers and ten transports of the second Russian Pacific squadron have arrived in the roads and are coaling.

Quiet Along the Front.

MUKDEN, Nov. 12.—Quiet continues everywhere along the front. The weather has become almost like summer. One large village to the south is occupied half by Russians and half by Japanese. Both sides sit in their huts and shout. "Get out here; this is our village" yell the Japanese "Get out yourselves," answer the Russians. Then follows volleys of abuse.
